The Battle at The Bridge Has Begun!

The weeks are just flying by, but the memories we have made at Frogbridge will last a lifetime! Each week seems faster than the one before, and we can't believe Week 6 has come and gone! The buzz around camp this week was all about Color War. As every day passed, the anticipation grew a little bit more, but campers and team members had to take part in the week 6 fun first!

On Monday we were certain this was it and the battle at the bridge would begin! However, we went to our activities, jumped on aeroball, made sushi in Chef Harrys and scored goals in soccer! The chanting "we want Color War" could be heard all over New Jersey and campers were letting it be known!

Tuesday was JR's big birthday bash but to everyone's surprise it is not JR's real birthday! JR's birthday is on July 27th, however JR's birthday bash is a chance for everyone here this summer to celebrate their birthday at camp! Cake is served to everyone and we have two words for all our campers "Happy Birthday"!!

This year's calendar had a brand new wear it...80s day! What a fantastic day to wear neon tutus, dress up like material girls, show off our ghost-buster shirts and rock out like rock-stars! How ironic that neon is the trend in 2019! Without a doubt one of our new favorite wear-its! This will have to be a regular on the camp calendar from now on!

We hope all of our families enjoyed our Parent BBQ as much as we enjoyed having you! Its amazing watching you, our parents, take part in all of your campers favorite activities and share in the fun they experience every day! Some made sure to take a dip in the pool, some took a boat ride on the lake, others spun around in bumper cars while, others zipped across the lake! One thing is for sure, everyone had some ice cream in Ribbits, and slushies in Frogaritas!

Before we knew it Friday was here and this had to be the day! We all gathered in HSG for the return of Robert Channing. Weeks ago, we found out that he is an amazing speed painter, but today we got to see his amazing mentalist skills. We were all intrigued by his mentalist show and how he was able to read minds and know so much information about so many of us! He called campers out of the audience, and Team Members too and then just when we thought it was over, he pulled out his paint brush and began painting another invisible canvas. When he was finished, he through the glitter onto the canvas to reveal the words... It's Time For...! Everyone was screaming, the color war chants were loud as can be and then JR took to the mic and said the magic words we all were waiting for. Ladies and gentlemen, It's Time For.....ASSEMBLY? It was a fake out! And just like that, JR sent everyone to assembly!

As we all gathered at assembly to celebrate today's birthdays and announce our week 6 CIT's of the week, JR asked Jennie, our senior camp division on leader what the best gift could possibly be for her birthday, which was today. After thinking about it for a minute or two, Jennie decided that the greatest gift she could ever ask for, was to break color war right now at assembly. And just like that, the color war music began and the games were officially on! FINALLY after 6 weeks the moment we had all been waiting for was finally here. We are calling this one the Fake Break, Breakout. Ladies and Gentlemen The Battle at the Bridge has finally begun! Get your green and gold ready because this year The Gold Safari led by General Zach K. and lieutenants Morgan S., Paul C. and Marissa C. and The Green Ocean led by General Mike B. and Lieutenants Corey B. Jordan B. and Ben H are all ready to start this battle! We can't wait for all the fun new games, and of course, the 86 acre relay and all the fun to follow. Have a great weekend! Go Green! Go Gold!
