SUMMER 2022

Frogbridge Fun Facts

For the first time since 2019, Frogbridge Day Camp will be hosting our annual Parent Night on Thursday, August 11 from 5PM—8PM. Campers will go home as they normally do and then return to camp with their parents to take part in all the fun. Many of our favorite activities will be open including the pool, so don't "froget" your bathing suits. Best of all you will get to experience the best BBQ in town as our executive chefs prepare many options for dinner. There will be carnival rides, a petting zoo, and many sweet treats. Can't wait to see you all there!

What's Gonna Hoppen Week 7:

- * Monday—Team Member Eating Contest!
- * Tuesday—86 Acre Relay
- * Wednesday—Color War Finale!
- * Thursday—Parent BBQ!
- * Friday—Camp Carnival!

Let The Games Begin!

The week we have been waiting for all summer has finally arrived. The excitement on the campers faces, the cheering all around camp, and getting everyone pumped up makes Color War memories that we will never forget. The buzz around camp was that Week 6 was going to be the big break. Everyone had a theory of when and where, but only JR knew exactly what he had planned and he was not telling anyone.

We kicked off the week with an Olympic Challenge at assembly and our annual guessing contest. This year featured over 3,300 green and gold jellybeans, which you would never know because the majority of our campers guessed closer to 1000! Congrats to Michael H. from MB5 for coming the closest, missing by only 24 jellybeans. Enjoy your tickets to Hershey Park!

Wednesday's brand new wear it, "College Day" had campers and Team Members representing their favorite Colleges. While there were many schools representing in the crowd, it looked like Penn State, the University of Maryland and Rutgers were definitely the fan favorites! Way to show your spirit everyone!

When we all gathered at PM assembly on Wednesday afternoon for our 5 and 6 year campers to receive their special gifts, nobody, and I mean nobody expected what was about to happen. Just as JR began our 5 & 6 year camper ceremony, all of a sudden Harry J came driving into assembly in a 1954 green convertible, pointing to his watch trying to tell JR it was time. Apparently the time was now, because he presented JR his own gift, a huge 25 foot long banner with the words "Frogbridge Color War! Go Green! Go Gold!" The Color War Music started, everyone went wild and the generals and lieutenants were announced. Congrats to Green Nickelodeon Lieutenants Sammy N., Arielle B., Annie B., and General Jordan B. They will face off against Gold Disney Lieutenants Rebecca T., Jaclyn M., Jake M. and General Arielle S. Harry J then presented them their own gifts which were t-shirts representing their team names and colors. Wear them proudly the next few days and enjoy your time as our camp's leaders!

But wait, another plot twist! For the first time in Frogbridge history, Color War broke but campers and team members had to wait over 24 hours for the competition to start. Due to the extreme heat on Thursday all our outdoor activities were cancelled and we spent the day in our airconditioned facilities and in the pool. We know how eager everyone was to find out what team they were on and when JR announced it Thursday morning I'm sure you heard the crowd cheering at home.

Finally it was Friday and Color War 2022 had officially begun, but not before a little Sweet Caroline and the longest green and gold camper conga lines in the world. Groups started competing in sports, cheering at Sing practice and were all ready for The battle At the Bridge! The annual return of the Team Leader bucket drop joined us at PM assembly. If you are new to Frogbridge this year, ask your campers what comes out of the buckets onto the leaders that are not in the lead. Here's a little hint.... it is not ever just water or confetti!

Get your green and gold ready and plenty of rest this weekend because we will back here soon enough on Monday ready for the games to resume! Have a great weekend!

SUMMER 22 SHOUTOUTS

-Time flies. We can't believe it's week 6 already! Our Tadpole groups are having a blast with their friends, enjoying all of their activities and this week's Bubble Show was amazing! Congrats to TP2, our Wear it winners. It's finally here - Color War!! We are so excited for the Battle at the Bridge!

-Intermediates are having such an exciting week! We are psyched for color war! Congratulations to IB2, the winners of Wear it Wednesday! We were super excited for the Bubble Show!

- Junior Camp was BEYOND excited to watch color war break! We can't wait for all of the fun and exciting games to play. Congratulations to all the Lieutenants and Generals chosen.

—Middle Camp had another spectacular week! MG3 and MG4 raised the flag this week. MB2 won the College Wear it! Congratulations to all the Color War Generals and Lieutenants. We're especially proud of our Middle Camp counselors chosen as Color War leaders!

-Senior Camp is having a blast. SB3 raised the flag to start week 6! SG3 won wear it Wednesday and enjoyed their pizza party for winning the Coin Hunt! Way to go!!!
